BRITISH FLAYED FOR CARELESSNESS FOR FLYER'S LIFE

Lawmakers Claim Hawker Should Have Been Protected—No Trace of Gallant Airman

(By Associated Press)

London, May 20.—The weather was so bad off the coast of Ireland today that the seaplane ordered by the Admiralty to search for aviator Harry G. Hawker's machine were unable to fly. All communication centres in London were silent as to news from Hawker and Lieut. Commander Grive. In view of the Admiralty's statement that reports current yesterday afternoon and last night were unreliable and because of the obscurity surrounding the source of these reports they are now regarded as negligible. The opinion held in Admiralty circles is that Hawker came to grief soon after he started.

In the House of Commons last night J. C. Wedgwood and other members severely criticised the government for failing to provide means for assisting Hawker in his flight across the Atlantic. Capt. Elliott declared the country would hold that the government had been lamentably remiss and desperately careless to the honor of the country "and the life of a gallant gentleman."

Horta, May 20.—The seaplane NC-1 started for Ponta Delgada at 12:10 p.m. today Greenwich meridian time.

Must be Prepared for Military Emergencies.

NANCY 3 IS UNABLE TO START AGAIN

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 20.—The naval seaplane NC-3 will not be able to resume the trans-Atlantic flight. A message to the Navy Department early today from Admiral Jackson at Horta said the damage resulting from the buffeting she received when forced to land while nearing the Azores had definitely put her out of the race. The hull was leaking, the message said, and one of the engine struts was badly damaged.

THE WEATHER

Washington, May 20.—Rain tonight and Wednesday except fair Wednesday in Vermont, Southeast to south winds becoming fresh.

The Herald never disappoints when it comes to serving up the news.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, May 20.—President Wilson in his cabled message to Congress today recommended the repeal of the war time prohibition law so far as it applies to wine and beer only; announced definitely that the railroad systems and telegraph and telephone lines would be returned to private ownership; urged revision of war taxes and outlined generally a program respecting labor.

He again urged enactment of the women suffrage constitutional amendment; recommended that the tariff laws be supplied with teeth to protect American industry against foreign attack; spoke for legislation to facilitate American enterprise through the expansion of shipping and backed Secretary Lane's program for fund for returning soldiers.

Of the peace conference and the league of nations, he merely said it would be premature to discuss them or express a judgment. He also avoided discussion of domestic legislation at length because of his long absence from Washington. The recommendation for the repeal of war time prohibition and for return of the rail and wire systems, while not unexpected by some, confused the greatest elements of surprise and provoked the most widespread comment of the many tasks not before Congress by the President.

In his reference to prohibition he said that demolition had progressed to such a point that it seemed entirely safe now to remove the ban upon the manufacture and sale of wine and beers. This ban had, for several months ago to become effective, only to be removed by act of Congressional enactment.

His recommendation regarding the return of the railways and wire lines was the first authoritative declaration by the administration of its future policy and greatly surprised many members who had interpreted the developments of the past few months to mean that he eventually would propose some form of permanent government operation. On the contrary the directness of his declaration on that point left no doubt that he was through with any possible scheme of permanent retention. "The telegraph and telephone lines," said the message, "will, of course, be returned to their owners as soon as the transfer can be effected without administrative confusion. The railroads will be handed over to their owners at the end of the calendar year."

In his recommendation for readjustment of taxation the President made it clear that he did not expect a fundamental adjustment of the Democratic tariff rates that have been operative for the past six years. He asked for tariff changes only to protect special new interests like the aircraft industry. Some reductions were advocated. In view of excess profit taxes and the present taxes on retail sales, the President thought could be dispensed with.

The recommendations regarding labor were general but the President called attention to the need for a partnership between capital and labor and a genuine "democratization of industry."

"Our first revision to aid the United States should have the means of properly protecting itself when there was danger of discrimination against it by foreign nations. "Though we are as far as possible from desiring to enter upon a course of retaliation," he said, "we must frankly face the fact that hostile legislation by other nations is not beyond the range of possibility and that it may have to be met by counter legislation. Although the United States will gladly and毫不犹豫地 join in the program of international disarmament it will, nevertheless, be a policy of obvious prudence to make certain of the successful maintenance of many strong and well equipped chemical plants."

PERSHING MUST STAY ON WATCH

(By Associated Press)
London, May 20.—Gen. Pershing's proposed visit to England has been indefinitely postponed. It is inferred here that the postponement is due to the official view that it would be inadmissible for him to leave the Rhine until the Germans sign the treaty.

MAY NOT SIGN TREATY UNTIL MIDDLE OF JUNE—HUN NOTES DELAYING WORLD PEACE

(By Associated Press)
The treaty of peace may not be signed until the middle of June according to advice from Paris. Germany will accept or reject the terms of the allies before the 15 day period given to the Germans to make reply to the terms of the treaty, expires on Thursday of this week. It is expected the enemy delegation will submit counter proposals so voluminous and elaborate that it will take the peace conference until June 1st to frame a resolution. After that it is said the Germans probably will be given a week to frame their final reply. This will be on or about June 8th and the treaty must then be engrossed in final form for signing. The German delegation was called together yesterday by its chief, Count von Brockdorff-Hartmann, who told before his colleagues the instructions he received at Spa on Sunday. It is reported that an announcement has been prepared by the Germans but has been referred to Berlin for approval.

WHAT BRIGADIER GEN. VANDERBILT SAID OF ARMY

So impressed was General Vanderbilt by the value and usefulness of Salvation Army endeavors overseas that he has become chairman for Greater New York in the Home Service Fund campaign. He has written to Commander Booth as follows:

"As a soldier, here and over there, both in the training camps and at the front, I was won to the cause of the Salvation Army because of its efficient and common-sense methods. In the rear of battle the Salvation Army was always at hand with its help and comfort for each soldier."

STEAL WINE IN DRY STATE

Manchester, N. H., May 20.—Three local young men received sentences in Superior Court Monday for stealing 96 quarts of brandy which in this dry state Onnie Barbrau was sent to jail for a year on the charge, while Ovide Traut and Gerard Deschene escaped with suspended sentences by each paying $25 fines.

Five other persons charged with violating the state liquor laws were held jail sentences of six months suspended by the payment of $100.

Until recently all people caught bringing liquor into the state only had to answer to the federal charge of violating the Webb-Kenyon law, but now the state presses a charge so that a few quarts of liquor may mean a couple of hundred dollars' fines and a few months in jail.

BACK LIKE A BOARD? IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS

There's no use suffering from the awful agony of lame back. It only comes back. Find the cause and it will be found. Conditions of kidneys are usually indicated by stiff lame backs and other stretching pains, which are natural signals for help.

Here's the remedy. When you feel the first twinges of pain or experience any of these symptoms, get busy at once. Go to your druggist and get a box of the pure, original GOLD MEDAL Heartless Oil Capsules, imported fresh every month from the laboratories in Marlene, Holland. This is the best and easiest to take; it instantly attains the painless, strong, glowing symptom and keeps it away.

For over two hundred years they have been helping the sick. Why not try them? Sold everywhere by reliable druggists in sealed packages. Three sizes. Money back if they do not help you. Ask for "GOLD MEDAL" and be sure the name "GOLD MEDAL" is on the box.

IS 18, BUT HAS TWO HUSBANDS

Portland, Me., May 20.—Carrie May Pinkham, an 18 year-old girl, indicted by the grand jury of the Superior Court on the charge of polygamy, went almost continuously Monday when her trial was opened before Judge Lauren M. Sanborn. It is charged that she was married to John A. Pinkham in Richmond, Me., March 14, 1917, when she was 10 years of age, and that on Jan. 29 of this year she became the wife of Fred C. Doyle of Westbrook, the latter being only 16 at the time of the marriage.

Mrs. Pinkham took the stand in her own defense Monday afternoon and she claimed that she had been informed that Pinkham was killed in a railroad accident previous to her marriage with Doyle. The Westbrook man was a soldier when they were married and he left the day after the ceremony was performed.

Several witnesses were called for the state's side, the defense, however, among them being John J. McNeil, one of the Cumberland County Deputy sheriffs. He testified to making a copy of the marriage certificate issued to Pinkham and the girl. Clark Connor of Richmond told of attending the marriage ceremony, and Leroy H. Rand, a justice of the peace in Westbrook, said that he performed the ceremony in which the respondent and Fred C. Doyle were made man and wife. The case is attracting the largest crowds in the Superior Court for many terms.

Astounding Human Achievements.

At a time when the public attention is so largely centered upon attempts to cross the Atlantic in airplanes there will be special interest in the first anniversary of the establishment of air mail service between New York and Washington, D. C., via Philadelphia, which city has also had the benefit of the service. This anniversary was celebrated at College Park, Md., on the 15th and the report of what has been accomplished was surprising and extremely gratifying.

A statement given out by the Postoffice Department said that the service, begun as an experiment, had proved a success in every way. The records showed that of the 1,263 trips scheduled for the year 1,136 were successfully completed, the total distance flown being 128,255 miles. The revenue from letters carried amounted to $169,700, while the cost of operation was $137,900, leaving a profit of $31,800. This is indeed a surprising outcome of an experiment in regard to which there was naturally a great deal of skepticism. There were many who thought the scheme entirely impractical, and who cannot fail to be delighted as well as astonished by the record made.

And there is another very surprising thing in connection with the first year's showing. The same two machines that were used at the start are used today. They have been in use throughout the year and are still propelled by their original motors. They have been driven through snow, rain, hail and wind storms, and during the entire year only 37 forced landings were necessary.

This is a remarkable record and one that will open the eyes of the world to the practicability of the flying machine in peace as well as in war. It shows that the airplane has a place in the practical affairs of life and is calculated to convince mankind that what the flying has in store is beyond the reach of the imagination.

We are indeed living in a wonderful age. Inventions and discoveries of the greatest importance follow one another in such rapid succession as to be almost bewildering. We have hardly time to become accustomed to one great development before there is another and another. The columns of the papers teem with reports of most astonishing achievements, many of which command only passing attention, so common have these things come to be. What would have been deemed utterly impossible only a few years ago is now received as something that was to have been expected, and people turn from one great accomplishment to await the next with as little excitement as the patrons of a barber shop follow one another to the chair.

What the future has in store is truly beyond human imagination. The dream that the time will come when there will be communication between the earth and Mars has always been regarded as a dream only, but in view of what has been accomplished in air navigation and in wireless communication, to say nothing of other astounding achievements of science and invention, it is a bold person who today will set a limit beyond which human ingenuity will be able to go in the years to come.

The seas are the world's great highways, but they have their tragedies. The drowning of six persons off the Isles of Shoals a few days ago by the sinking of a barge which had broken from its tow was a small affair compared with great ocean disasters, yet it was a sad and tragic event and one that brought gloom to the people of this region, whose sympathy goes out in large measure to the bereaved captain whose wife and four young children constituted five of the victims.

Legislation providing for homesteading for returned soldiers will be introduced at the coming session of Congress. One important feature is that which provides for the employment of soldiers in reclaiming land at $4 a day. With such an opening as that there should be few complaints of "unemployment." But the legislation isn't enacted yet.

The Massachusetts House of Representatives wants the salaries of the members increased from $1,000 a year to $1,500, the increase to apply to those now serving. There is nothing small about the demand except consideration for the tax payers. But most public officials are not worrying about them these days.

The program is to rush highway work in this state in order to have the roads in good condition as early in the season as possible. This is a wise decision. New Hampshire is a leading summer resort state, and in these days of the automobile good roads are one of the greatest inducements to summer vacationists.

The promise is bright for a successful season at the Isles of Shoals, and the same is true of all the New Hampshire and New England resorts. The war is over and there are better and happier days ahead.

MAY BE REPEAL OF PROHIBITION BEFORE JULY 1

Washington, May 20.—Reports reached Washington from large cities all over the country today that the war time prohibition act will not be put into effect. This report has reached the ears of almost every congressman and is being given credence by most of them, even those who are known to be leaders of the temperance movement.

It is said that the intention is to remove all restrictions upon the manufacture and sale of beer and wines which are now prohibited by law after July 1, but to continue the restriction upon the manufacture of spirituous liquors.

Those who are apparently best posted on the subject have asserted that the message from President Wilson, which will be transmitted to Congress containing a recommendation to the effect that the war time prohibition act be repealed before July 1.

Secretary Tammey declined to affirm or deny the report.

NAVY YARD NOTES

Can Train as Musician and Yeoman.

The Navy Department has returned to the former custom of enlisting apprentices to train for the rating of musician or yeoman. During the war those ratings were all filled and no opportunity was offered the apprentices in that line.

Transferred to Collar.

Carpenter's Mate Thomas C. Smith of the receiving ship Southery was transferred today to the collar department at the local yard.

Losing Time Saves Discharge.

The force in the foundry and joiner's shop of the Industrial Department are working four days each week. Each employee having two days in order to come within the appropriation allowed right to prevent a discharge between now and the beginning of the fiscal year.

Part of the Money Allowed.

The Industrial Department has been allowed $5,000 for storage machinery work on the hospital ship Comfort. The same amount or more is necessary for construction and repair work which the bureau has so far refused. General Major A. A. Adams still insists that this sum be made available and has made a second appeal for the same to the bureau. If the necessary money is not granted it will mean strenuous machinery work and nothing more.

On the Inactive List.

Lieut. A. C. Barker of the reserve pay corps, who has been attached to the office of cost and inspection, has been released and placed on the inactive list. Lieut. Barker is known as the Yale athlete and for his record on that college track team.

First Game Wednesday.

The yard Supper League ball team will play the Hilliard team on Diamond No. 1 at the prison grounds on Wednesday afternoon at 4:40. All yard employees will be allowed to witness the game which will be against the South Dakota.

Called a Rigger.

One rigger was required by the Industrial Department today.

Yard Duty Temporarily on.

Chief Yeoman Martin, Higgins has been transferred temporarily from duty at the Army and Navy Home in this city to the navy yard reading room.

Want Series of Games.

The Charlestown Navy Yard ball team has asked for a series of games with the Portsmouth yard team. If such can be arranged the games will likely be played in July on Saturdays. The Great Falls Manufacturing Co. at Somersworth wants a game with the Yard team and will likely be accommodated later in the season.

Yeomen (F) as Orderlies.

Yeomen (F) are being used as orderlies at the headquarters of the First Naval District at the Charlestown navy yard on account of the order sending 32 per cent of the men to sea.

A big reduction in the number of the yeomen (F) has been ordered both at the yard and in the district. Probably 300 will be affected. The Charlestown yard proper will lose 70 by the order and the district the remainder. This order is only the first of many to come calling for a reduction in the yeomen (F) force, as another one is expected before June 1.

The reduction order does not apply to the headquarters of the district, but does to all other stations commanded by it. Many of the yeomen (F) have taken advantage of the opportunity to be transferred to other districts and to Washington and the Great Lakes, where there has been a great demand for yeomen that cannot be fulfilled, unless the yeomen (F) accept the chance to be transferred they will be discharged.

URGE SANITY FOR NATION

New York, May 20.—Initiation of a nation-wide movement to "restore sanity and common sense" in the relations of labor and industry was urged upon the National Association of Manufacturers in a report of the committee on industrial betterment, health and safety, read at the opening session of the association's 24th annual meeting here Monday.

The committee voted disapproval of state and national compulsory health insurance, which, it was declared, forced upon employers, employees and the public "a costly and unjustified paternalistic burden."

In discussing this report William P. White of Lowell, Mass., a member of the executive committee, charged the Wilson administration with "political cowardice" in granting the eight-hour basic day to railroad employees.

"Great governments have been destroyed, great peoples disappeared," he said, "because of the excessive demands of proletarian grown lazy and improvident by the coddling of governments. If we are to preserve the republic we must insist upon freedom of action on the part of the individual and that progress can only be made upon individual efficiency."

Patrol of National forests by Army airplanes to warn of forest fires will begin June 1, with two patrol routes from March Field, near Riverside, Cal. On the same day observations covering a large part of the Angeles National forest will be started from a captive balloon at the Army Balloon School near Arcadia, Cal. Two airplanes will be used on each patrol route. Each route will be about 100 miles long and will be covered twice a day. Warnings of fire will be transmitted by parachute messages dropped over a town or by the aviators descending and communicating with the forest supervisor.

The Honesdale, Penn., Baptist church has extended a call to Rev. John Burroughs, who also is a physician.

COTTON MILL EMPLOYEES GET RAISE

Boston, May 20.—An increase of 15 per cent in the wages of cotton mill employees in New England and elsewhere in the north where plants are operating on a 43 hour week basis has been recommended to the mill owners, according to an announcement today by the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers. This action was taken at a meeting of northern mill managers and it is the recommendation is carried out in full, will affect mills operating 15,000,000 spindles. It is estimated, no announcement by woolen mill men regarding wage increases in that branch of the textile industry was available today.

The weather was clear and the wind favorable. A series of squalls which seemed to chase one another over the nearby mountains and along the route delayed the departure of the NC-4. The crew went on board the seaplane at daybreak and spent the early forenoon hours watching for a favorable opportunity to hop off for Ponta Delgada where the plane will stop over night and be overhauled and fueled before proceeding for Lisbon.

Washington, May 20.—The NC-4 arrived at Ponta Delgada at 10:21 a. m. Washington time.

Washington, May 20.—The official report from Rear Admiral Jackson showed that the plane covered the distance of 160 miles in 1 hour and 21 minutes, or at the rate of more than 86 miles an hour.

Mrs. Delora Angell, the 16-year old Lake Forest girl, who inherited the J. W. Gates millions, inherited also seven carloads of fine furniture, which have arrived in Chicago. The seven cars contain the furniture of Mrs. Gates' home in New York and the South. The consignment is valued at $100,000. The Angell family, who live in a modest home, do not know whether to make a storage house or establish a museum.

ALLIES LOST 300 TROOPS AT SMYRNA

(By Associated Press)

Paris, May 20.—Allied casualties in the fighting incident to the landing at Smyrna last Thursday totaled 300 it is officially announced. The Turks held the town stubbornly. Only a consular guard was landed by the American warships. An account of the Smyrna engagement received on Sunday from Constantinople stated that 300 Turks and 100 Greeks were killed.

SOMEBODY PINCHED HIS BAG OF BOOZE

Was on His Way to Kittery
With the Cheering Spirit.

A man with a ticket for Saco got off the afternoon Portland train on Monday. He had quite a start on and carried a hand bag which must have looked good to somebody. He said he was going to make a call on a friend in Kittery. It appears that the bag contained booze but somebody else besides the owner will consume it.

The Saco visitor did considerable moping around the station and forgot to keep himself annexed to the wet goods. Finally somebody decided they needed stock more than he did and hooked onto bag and all.

The Saco man came to after a while and called the attention of officer Doherty to his loss. While he grieved and mourned over the bag he was reluctant in making known just what the contents were. He finally got over to Kittery without the cheering spirits which he intended to present to the party across the river.

K. OF C. NOTES

There will be the regular dance for the men of the Service at the K. of C. Home Thursday evening.

The Council will meet this evening, business of importance is to be transacted.

The new furniture purchased for the Home has not yet been received.

The greatest relay race in the history of Europe and probably of the world, will be held by 250 picked men of the A. E. F. on Decoration Day. According to a cablegram received by Wm. J. Mulligan, chairman of the K. of C. committee on War Activities, from Lawrence O. Murray, a K. of C. Overseas Commissioner and former Comptroller of the Currency. The race will be held from the battlefield of Chateau Thierry to the Place de la Concord, Paris, under the auspices of the Knights of the A. E. F. and the management of the Knights of Columbus. The 250 picked athletes are runners who competed in the recent Rhein relay "marathon" from Cochem to Coblenz. They will be divided into teams of 20 men, each team running 3 miles from the famous battlefield to the heart of Paris.

Major A. D. Seales, former West Point Athlete Star and K. of C. Secretary Owen Morello, are in charge of all arrangements. Special medals are being struck by the Knights of Columbus to be presented to the leading men in the different teams and to those gaining places.

CLAMOR FOR NOON-DAY C. OF C. LUNCH TICKETS

Manchester, May 20.—Indications point to an unusually large attendance of members at the Thursday noon-day luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce at the Academy, which will be addressed by ex-President Taft, Pres. A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard University and Herbert S. Houston. Acceptance of mailed invitations extended the members are pouring in by the scores in each mail.

Many up-state men, it is expected, will apply for tickets to attend the luncheon and hear a trio of the most notable national figures to lecture in Manchester for years. Ex-President Taft's address is being featured but the remarks of Lowell and Houston are, in themselves, sufficient to attract practically complete turnout of the members, according to Secy. Arthur W. Philney.

PERSONALS

J. L. Bailey V. Emery is visiting in Hanover.

E. W. Gray and family are at Wallis Sands for the season.

Charles W. Brewster of Concord was a visitor here on Monday.

Mrs. Hattie Hegley of this city has been visiting Mrs. Eugene Dotey in New Boston.

Dann Nelson passed the week end in Concord.

Mrs. Ethel Bishop passed Sunday at her home in Concord.

Ralph T. Stevens of Quincy, Mass., was a visitor in this city today.

Y. M. C. A. Secretary Leroy C. Schmalzried was a visitor in Manchester today.

Mrs. George S. Heydas and D. E. Rogarty of the Shattuck Co. are passing the day in Boston on business.

Mrs. Mary L. Wood, director of sub-urban work, presided over the meeting of the Home Council held Monday evening in the Board of Commerce rooms, Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lane announced the marriage of their daughter Edna to Albert C. Von Der Flecht of New York. The couple were united in marriage on May 4, 1918. They have just returned from their wedding trip and will reside in Brooklyn where the groom has a business.

At 3:45 p. m. a spectacular parade started in front of the city armory house, proceeding to the common, then counter marching and going to Cold Spring Park, where beneath a big tent at 5 p. m. the crowd was seated at a banquet.

At the park there was a cabaret show and community singing of popular songs. After the banquet the bands consolidated, marched to Central square and after giving a short concert disbanded.

Candidates marched in the procession, clad in night shirts and baby bonnets, and in the parade there were many original features all providing great merriment.

Among them was the Beaverhill club band of 10 pieces and a Tom-Tom band introducing novel features in discord. There was in a donkey cart Ray Goring of Dover, weight 300 pounds, dressed as "Huster Brown" and G. W. of Boston, a little fellow weighing 100 pounds, attired as a school-girl. The Deadwood stage coach drawn by six horses, attracted much attention. Perched on its top was a clown head, and the interior was loaded with various characters. The officers of the organization rode in a decorated automobile.

The caterer was Whitman of Boston, who did similar work for the 26th Division at its recent big parade in Boston. The food was brought from Boston in three-wheeled carriers with drivers hot. There were 125 colored waiters. The candidates received the P. S. degree in the city opera house after the banquet, then a vaudeville show was given until a late hour.

York and Portsmouth joined in a parade at Portsmouth and our "Dobie" Hawkes led the cheering. The York boys were given a great welcome in Portsmouth.

YORK

May 20.—The members of the Knights of Birmingham are still talking of their wonderful trip and outing at Rochester. The order is a division of the Masonic fraternity, and the attendance was over 1,000. The chief attraction of the Knights of Birmingham is fun, and the organization had its origin in Utica, N. Y., about 20 years ago.

Soon after its birth the order was transferred to Vermont. An enthusiastic member at that time was Jonathan L. Mack, who, when he came to Rochester about 35 years ago, brought with him the ritual of the order and a fund of the stories of the fun enjoyed in Vermont. An organization was formed there with 25 charter members, including Mr. Mack, Moses and Herman Melman, the late George A. McDuffie and other Masons.

The fame of the Knights of Birmingham spread so rapidly that for the parade this year banners, of no less than 125 towns and cities in New England were carried, also from Canada, Chicago and California.

This year's meeting was the largest in the order's history. The delegation from Beaverhill, Mass., brought a "public band" and drum corps of 35 pieces, and came in automobiles. York and Sanford, Me., brothers with a band, went by special train, as did those on the Lakeport branch. That city was represented musically by the Bansin American band, and a "rumba band," the latter the funniest ever heard in town.

YOU CAN'T GO WRONG.

With a K. C. jazz orchestra daytime.

The wide popularity and fine quality of their music has been proven to Portsmouth people, and a large and jolly crowd of dancers will be on hand at Freeman's hall Thursday evening. Inquiries have been freely made from Dover, Somersworth, Sanford and Newburyport, relative to this dance. The Derry communication stated that large motor busses had already been chartered for the trip. This is not a substitute team, the "original" K. C. jazz band is.

SHIPBUILDER'S
YEARS AGO

A most interesting comparison of the wages paid shipbuilders today and 100 or 100 years ago is disclosed by the Hon. D. A. Sargent, the first Mayor of Brewer, Me., who has kept a fine record of early day events and "pieces" which really make strange reading in contrast to fiction, etc., today.

Back in 1827 ship carpenters worked for $1 a day, and a day in those days constituted nearly twice the number of hours that 1919's days do. The workman began early in the morning and continued work until late in the evening until it was too dark to work longer.

One Pine Tree Slater named Simon Moulton was master workman of one of Maine's shipyards back in those days and he received the exceptional wage of five shillings a day, or $1.25. Many others received but $1.00 a month. Furthermore, in those days a large majority of the shipyard workers in Maine yards owned their own homes and accumulated a little more besides.

FELL FROM CART FRACTURED WRIST

John Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Thompson of Greenland road, was badly injured on Monday forenoon when he fell from a dump cart he was driving on Middle Street. The horses suddenly jumped at a plowing machine, and the lad was thrown from the seat.

He was taken into the home of John D. Baldwin and Drs. E. P. Eastman and McLauchlan attended him. He had a fractured right wrist and a bad scalp wound.

WHAT IS GREATEST WEAPON AGAINST DEFEAT

"Mickey" Illustrates Attainment. The great asset a sense of humor is to life, through every hardship and suffering, joy and sorrow, is wonderfully illustrated in the famous photo, "Mickey" at the Colonial Theatre in Fleetwood, France, in England, Holland—in fact in all Europe they have borne their burdens because they can grin, too. Their newspapers can even joke about the gravest hardships.

Mickey, a lonely waltz, with all circumstances against her, proves that her endurance, triumphs only because it is supported by her own natural appreciation of the humor of situations. She knows how to separate the petty from the really big things in life, and how to laugh away the small while accomplishing the great things. Mickey graphically shows that she has learned, even under the most strenuous trials, to see the humor of it all and to laugh genuinely—the greatest weapon against defeat.

Mickey is a mischievous little girl bubbling over with a sunlight and joy that is contagious. She is weighed down with cruelties that might have broken and scattered, many, but she knows how to laugh through her tears. She is continually looking for something funny in every situation. Just as Pollyanna looks for something to be glad about even in the worst predicaments.

Mickey and Pollyanna, however, illustrate two distinct types of philosophy. Mickey keeps advancing, she is never just satisfied and content with things as they are. Yet she is always smiling and happy with the very joy of just smiling.

Whether we like it or not, we will believe to a certain extent in the Mickey philosophy. It won't not. If we could see only the utter grimness of things as they really are in so many tear-stained countries, if we could not pick out the bright and sunny spots in these war-tattered lives, we would just naturally have to die of grief or insanity. Measure yourself, have you ever thought to what degree you are a Mickey philosopher?

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Girls! Make beauty lotion for a few cents—Try It!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of glycerine, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy-white the skin becomes. Yet it is harmless and never irritates.

NOTICE DISCHARGED SERVICE MEN.

In order that the Portsmouth men who have been discharged from service since February 21st may be honored at the Demobilization Service Portsmouth Theatre, on the evening of Decoration Day, it will be necessary to have their names sent to the War Camp Community Service office, 20 New Hampshire National Bank Building, as soon as possible. Such action will insure their representation by a star on the Multiclip Service Flag.

LIEUT. HILL
RESIGNS FROM NAVY HOME

At a meeting of the directors of the Army and Navy Home, Lieut. Commander W. L. Hill, U. S. N. the promoter and superintendent of the Home, announced his resignation. Mr. Hill's health has been poor of late and he is given up this work for that reason alone.

Not only the directors but the general public will learn with regret of Mr. Hill's resignation for his has been a great work in this direction. He not only was the promoter and moving spirit in the handsome home on Daniel Street, but at the navy yard, the recreation rooms will always be a memorial for his splendid work for the enlisted men.

CHILDREN'S SERVICE DAY BE-FORE MEMORIAL

With the approval of the Woman's Relief Corps the annual Memorial Day parade of the school children this year will be held at 3 o'clock May 29, instead of Memorial Day morning.

It is planned to have the schools go in double column to the playground carrying their memorial wreaths. The simple exercises will be held near the bleachers which are reserved for all who are interested to observe.

GRIEF OVER
GAME AVIATOR

There was a great interest in the attempt made by Harry Hawke, the brave little Australian who made the attempt to fly to Ireland and the Herald telephone was busy a good part of the evening and large numbers read the battle-board dispatches. There was general regret heard from all sides when the news came that he has failed to make the flight and possibly has lost his life.

WATCH HIS FEET

A boy takes a thousand steps a day to your one. Don't you think he feels the roughness and inequalities of cheap shoes?

Think of the harm to growing feet caused by cheap or imperfect footwear; most foot troubles such as corns, bunions, ingrowing toe nails, etc., may be attributed to improper shoes or the way they are fitted. Therefore, don't your boy's feet, both for now and for the future, mean something to you?

PRESIDENT AND JANE ADDAMS AGREE ON TERMS

Zurich, May 18—Miss Jane Addams of Chicago today read at the Women's International Conference for Permanent Peace a reply to an address sent to President Wilson of Paris relative to modification of the terms of peace. The President wrote:

"Your message appeals both to my intellect and heart, and I sincerely desire that means may be found to comply with it. Although the prospects are far from reassuring, because of the immense practical difficulties."

Answering a suggestion by British delegates that the American delegation at the Peace Conference secure her appointment as a member of the Council of the League of Nations, Miss Addams said, "Such a scheme cannot be realized, for in America at the present day none is more detested than the pacifist."

NAVAL OFFICERS ARE LOST OFF CHATHAM

Chatham, May 19—Two officers connected with the U. S. naval air station here were probably drowned when a naval seaplane fell into the sea about a mile off the coastguard station at Orleans today. The third member of the crew was rescued.

The officers believed to have lost their lives are Lt.-J. H. Clayles and Ostridge, Watertown, and First Class Quarter-master Herbert Hartenstein, Reading, Pa.

The officer saved is Lt.-J. H. Clayles.

The seaplane came to grief while being put through a tail spin. She fell nose first, plowing Ostridge and Hartenstein under the mechanism. Walsh threw himself clear of the plane and was picked up by a boat crew that went out from shore.

As soon as word of the accident reached the naval air station, which is some distance from where the plane fell, a squad of men was hurried off to raise the wreckage and rescue Ostridge and Hartenstein if they were still alive.

As no sign of them could be discovered, the fear grew that both had been trapped under the water and died without a fighting chance for their lives.

The men were making a practice flight in the machine. Observers of the accident said the plane went into a tail dive.

Walsh was in delirious condition when brought ashore. A coast guard crew which went out to the seaplane reported that it was partly under water and that there was no trace of the bodies of Ostridge and Hartenstein.

SERIOUSLY INJURED WHILE TRYING TO STOP A RUNAWAY

Cannon, Knocked Down, Ran Over and Dragged at Greenland Pigery.

A man named Cannon one of the owners of the pigery at Greenland was seriously injured there today. He was in a field nearby when a horse suddenly without a driver started to run. Cannon grabbed the animal by the head and was thrown to the ground and dragged. The wheels of a heavy truck driving by the horse passed over his body, rendering him nearly unconscious. He was rushed to the Portsmouth Hospital for treatment. The extent of the man's injury cannot be determined until after the work of the X-ray.

To buy quality shoes shows the wisest sort of Economy.

Old Man Economy discovered quite a while ago that buying cheap shoes was a rather expensive experiment. Now he dresses his feet in up-to-the-minute footwear that combines its shapeliness and saves him money. Why not experiment along those lines on your next shoe purchase?

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE MEETS WITH GOOD RESPONSE

The drive for the Salvation Army, the only army that has never signed an armistice, was begun on Monday and it gave every indication of being all that the Elks expect of it.

The women's committee began work Monday morning and they had finished a good part of the residential section before nightfall. In the greater number of cases they were courteously received and the response were generous.

At the Navy Yard and at the shipyard, the committees got down to work and from now on it will be a hustle to give everybody a chance to do their bit in this great cause. Monday evening pictures of the work of the army in France were thrown on a screen on Market square and they attracted a good crowd.

The local quota with $10,000 is not so very large for this city and vicinity as it takes in the navy yard and some of the surrounding towns, less 15 cents per capita. The fund will include a good share of the work of the local army, which has been laid out in a budget and the money will be distributed through the Elks committee, who are in charge of the drive, if you have not been called upon hunt up some of the solicitors and give your contribution, be generous for it is a good thing.

AUTO CRASHES THROUGH GATES ON THE CROSSING

An automobile with two men failed for some reason or other to obey the Vaughan street crossing gates lowered across the street on Monday afternoon and crashed through both just ahead of the York Beach train coming into the depot. The machine went into Green street and later came back to the crossing with a good part of one gate hanging to the mudguard. The police were notified and later placed the man driving the auto under arrest.

CAPTAIN GRAY TAKES BODIES OF WIFE AND BABY TO NEW JERSEY

Capt. William Gray of the ill-fated bridge at Perth Amboy and his brother-in-law from Perth Amboy have been at Newburyport in conference with Under-taker McKinney relative to the bodies of his wife and six month old son Herbert, which washed ashore on Sillsbury and Westbrook beaches. The remains were shipped to Perth Amboy on Monday. The husband is buried down with grief in the loss of his family. Mrs. Gray was 29 years of age. Much sympathy was expressed to Capt. Gray by people he has met everywhere since the sinking of the bridge on last Thursday morning.

BOARD OF POLICE MEET ON MONDAY

Concrete Base for Silent Policemen; Traffic Men to Wear White Gloves.

The guard of police commissioners met on Monday night with one member, Arthur P. Howard, absent. One application for a junk license was granted.

The members of the board after con-fering with the public works department, voted to place all the silent policemen on concrete bases to be provided by the public works. This is to be done as a protection for the traffic signs that are damaged more or less by reckless drivers.

The traffic police have been ordered to wear white gloves when on traffic duty. The movement of the officer's hands in giving signals can be better observed with gloves, thus the order from the commission.

The matter of policing Atlantic Heights was discussed again but no definite action taken.
